This project involved the amalgamation of an old existing single storey Edwardian home and a modern, new double storey extension. The front façade and rooms were retained while most of the existing house was demolished. A long hallway leading from the entrance connects the old and new sections. A living room, study, master and guest bedrooms, pantry and laundry flank the hallway which then opens up into the open plan living room, kitchen and dining. This leads out onto a verandah overlooking the swimming pool.
